REDUCED COURSE LOAD

OVERVIEW:

International students, in F-1 status, are required to maintain a full course of study during Fall & Spring semesters of the academic school year. Federal rules and regulations limit a student's ability to be less than full-time. If a student drops below full-time of study without prior approval of a DSO from the Office of International Education, the student will lose their F-1 status, regardless of what the reason may be. If a student cannot meet the full-time status requirement, they have to request for a reduced course load from the Office of International Education in advance.

DEFINITION OF FULL-TIME STATUS:

Full-time course of study, or full-time status, is defined as nine (9) U.S. credit hours for graduate/doctoral students and twelve (12) U.S. credit hours for undergraduate students during any fall or spring semester. Enrollment is not necessary during summer term unless the summer term is:

- the student's first, or initial, semester at TAMU-CC
- the student's first term after re-admission, change of status, or transfer-in
- the student's first term in a new academic program
- the student's last term of their current degree program

ACCEPTABLE REASONS FOR REDUCED COURSE LOAD:

Category I:

- Improper Course Level Placement
- Initial Difficulty with English language or reading requirements
- Unfamiliarity with U.S. teaching methods

Category II:

- Final semester to complete program of study
- Student is enrolled in coursework and internship & considered full-time by Graduate Studies Dept.
- Completion of all coursework except for dissertation/thesis

Category II:

- Medical Reasons

UNACCEPTABLE REASONS FOR REDUCED COURSE LOAD:

- Financial difficulties
- Poor academic performance (failing, or fear of failing current courses, etc.)
- Suspension from academic program
- Working on classes with "I" or "incompletes" from previous term
- Preparing for Examinations; i.e., CPA, GRE, GMAT, a pedagogy exam or content area exam certification for state teacher certification, etc.
- Medical illness of a family member
- Child care issues

HOW TO APPLY FOR A REDUCED COURSE LOAD:

1. Consult with a DSO in the Office of International Education BEFORE submitting application
2. Once advised to submit reduced course load forms, complete reduced course load form and secure appropriate documentation to support reduced course load request
3. Once reduced course load form and documents have been obtained, submit them to OIE for review and approval.
4. Once approved, the DSO will process the request in SEVIS and issue a new I-20 with the reduced course load authorization.
